JEWELRY POLISHING CLOTH

AUREA 750

NEW

What if your real Gold items get tarnished?

Tarnish is a thin layer of corrosion on metals resulting from a reaction to moisture, air, or chemical compounds on its surface. This will appear as a dark discoloration to your jewellery. We use an 18 karat Gold alloy containing other metals which can tarnish (pure 24k Gold will not tarnish but it is too soft to be used for Body Jewelry).

Usually it is easy to remove the tarnish from solid gold pieces by using a Jewelry polishing cloth, which is impregnated with an anti-tarnishing agent. Simply rub the cloth on the piece of jewellery and you'll see the tarnish begin to disappear. In cases of bad tarnishing, you can use a silver cleaner to wash the piece, or search the web for additional methods and hacks.
